

Kalpana Singh Chawla

7765563465

Full Stack Engineer

Professional Summary

Aerospace Engineer and NASA Astronaut. First woman of Indian origin to go to space. Expert in fluid dynamics and microgravity research with over 31 days spent in Earth orbit.

NASA Astronaut Corps

Mission Specialist on STS-87 and STS-107. Logged 30 days, 14 hours, and 54 minutes in space. Specialized in operating the Spartan satellite and robotic arm.

Academic Background

Ph.D. in Aerospace Engineering (University of Colorado Boulder, 1988), M.S. in Aerospace Engineering (UT Arlington, 1984), B.E. in Aeronautical Engineering (Punjab Engineering College, 1982).

Expertise

Computational Fluid Dynamics (CFD), Spacecraft Robotics, Atmospheric Physics, Flight Simulation, Pilot (Commercial Pilot License for single and multi-engine airplanes).

Licenses & Certifications

Certified Flight Instructor (CFI), FAA Commercial Pilot License, NASA Space Flight Medal.